NORWICH BULLETIN

Willimantic Office
41 Church Street Telephone 1903

Chief of Police Daniel Killourey received Thursday morning's copy of the law sent out to every chief of police, selectmen and other court officials in the state by Robbin R. Stoddard, commissioner of motor vehicles, relating to the issuance of operator's licenses to applicants for public service vehicles, which in effect reads "that no operator's license shall be issued to an applicant if he has a criminal record or has not given satisfactory evidence as to the qualifications for securing a license."

Accompanying the letter from Commissioner Stoddard was a list of the public service operators of the state, listing 50 Willimantic people in the public service classification, as follows:

News in Willimantic who have been watching the contents from Fred Duggan of Taftville and McKenzies of Moosup, two of the best bowlers in eastern Connecticut, are awaiting with interest the scheduled 20-game match between Harry Noel, Willimantic's best, and McKenzies, who bowled noon. In the matches with Duggan the Moosup wonder won both 20-game series by a margin of one pin.

The game between Noel and McKenzies was a side by side, 19 games will be rolled in either city. At Moosup Wednesday night in a match game between Moosup and Willimantic McKenzies scored 302 to 241, but Noel is good for a better score the match is sure to be a close one. On the outcome of the match will probably have other challenges for the better bowler, eastern Connecticut's best bowler. The local men back Noel to meet all comers.

A report circulated about the city Thursday morning to the effect that the Willimantic Normal school, which was destroyed by fire Wednesday evening, was being investigated.

There was a fire at the home Wednesday night which slightly damaged the room but members of the Tariff family, who occupy the house, with the aid of neighbors, soon had the fire out. The damage was slight.

A large delegation from this city went to Hampton Thursday to attend the auction of the household goods, livestock and farming tools of the late A. A. Burchinal estate, Stanton L. Briggs of Lebanon was in charge of the sale.

The final session of the citizenship class is to be held this (Friday) evening at the Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of Americanization Director G. B. Gilman. More than 100 questions are to be asked the members of the class, who are to try for their citizenship papers at the May term of the court.

The singing class of the American Thread company closed down Thursday night until Monday morning next. The reason for the suspension of operations is because the annual inventory is to be taken of the finished and unfinished products at the plant. The inventory annually takes place about this time of year.

The weatherman played a trick on the people of this little earth Thursday and jumped spring back into winter, with but little warning. The temperature began to drop slowly Wednesday night and it continued cool Thursday morning. About noon rain began to fall and snow changed to hail and snow. Automobiles who had put away their chains for the warm months ahead looked them up, and several cars appeared with chains. Those who tried the trick without chains found the going dangerous, and many accidents were narrowly averted. The motorist was not alone with his trouble, as those on foot experienced slippery going.

Warmer weather is promised for today (Friday), and no one in Willimantic is likely to kick when this was learned.

Mrs. Ellen Mulhane Twomey, 90, widow of Patrick Twomey, died at an early hour Thursday morning at her home, No. 227 Jackson street, from influenza due to age. Mrs. Twomey was born in Ireland May 21, 1832, the daughter of James and Bridget Noonan Mulhane, and came to this city some 73 years ago, making her a native of Willimantic. She was a devoted mother and leaves a wide circle of friends. Mrs. Twomey is survived by three daughters, Misses Anne and Ellen Twomey of Willimantic, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. John H. Henry of Stonington, and by three sons, William S. Twomey of Roxbury, Mass., James P. and Patrick J. Twomey of this city. She was a member of the St. Ignace church and a great-grandchild.

NORWICH TOWN

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Methodist Episcopal church, a social was held in the vestry, Wednesday evening, with a large attendance of members and friends. The social committee, Mrs. Richard Carter, chairman, was in charge of the following program: Prayer by the pastor, Rev. James B. Aldrich; song, Happy Greeting, all; reading, Mary Smith, Mrs. A. D. Zahriske; quart, Tucky Home, Miss Blanche Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler; recitation, Miss Josephine Hill; song, Home, Sweet Home, all; piano solo, Miss Florence Brown; song, Sweet and Low, all; piano solo, Failing Waters, and for an encore, Love's Waltz, Miss Unabelle Harbeck; closing song, God Be With You Till We Meet Again, all. Various games were played and during the social hour which followed Mrs. Carter assisted by Mrs. William H. Whitman and Mrs. Chas. Perkins served sandwiches, cake and coffee.

A business meeting of the social committee was held Saturday evening, in the vestry, when candidates for membership in the Christian Endeavor society were voted on and accepted. At this meeting part of the time was devoted to sociability.

Having discontinued meetings since January, the Scotland Road Christian Endeavor society will resume services next Sunday afternoon at the usual hour at the hall. The meeting will be in charge of the president, Howard Bushnell, of Occum.

Rev. Robert L. Roberts, D. D., pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, will be the officiating clergyman at the Sheltering Arms service Sunday afternoon.

Rev. James B. Aldrich, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, left Thursday afternoon, to attend conference in Pawtucket. There will be no service at the Norwich Town Methodist church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Aldrich is not expected to return until Monday.

Spring birds are already here in large numbers. The kilderer has been through March on the Scotland road, where it frequents barnyards, and makes its nests in pastures. It is a well known bird and can be easily told by its piercing cry. This bird is also found near the shore. It feeds on injurious larvae. The stomach of one I saw contained hundreds of larvae of salt marsh mosquitoes. It eats many varieties of weevils, also leaf beetles.

The red-winged blackbird has been about for some time. This bird feeds in part on harmful insects, but also likes grains, especially oats. For a week or more the familiar song of the meadow-lark has been heard in pastures and in Lowthorpe Meadows. The phoebe is here, one of the most useful of native birds.

The fox sparrow has come from its winter home in the southern states. The plumage of the fox sparrow is bright reddish brown

FORECLOSURE SUITS IN NEW SUPERIOR COURT CASES Several foreclosure suits were included in a list of new cases for the superior court which were filed here Thursday at the office of Judge George E. Parsons, clerk of the court.

Patrick L. Shea of New London sued Benjamin Berkowitz of that city for foreclosure of a mortgage for $16,000 on land in New London between Howard street and Shaw's cove. The mortgage was given July 25, 1919, with an agreement that $2,500 should be paid off on Aug. 15, 1920, and $500 each year thereafter. It is claimed that Berkowitz has refused to pay the city taxes and now owes $550 in taxes, while other claims include Hudson Tailors of New York, lien for $700, Fremont Clothing Co. lien for $250, Louis Dickinson, New York, mortgage for $2,500, Wolfson Bros., Boston, lien for $308.26; House of Franz, New York, lien for $418.42; Harter Columbus, Inc., Ohio, lien for $375; Samuel Brody, New York, lien for $500.

Abraham Brönthelm of New London sued Jane P. and Maxwell River of New York, husband and wife, for foreclosure of a mortgage for $10,400 on three tracts of land on Tilly street. The mortgage was originally given by Max Baratz on Dec. 1, 1919.

Ephraim I. Spitz of Newark, N. J., sued Liberman Sharaf and others for foreclosure of a $3,500 mortgage on Belvidere street property in New London given July 26, 1917.

Wallace S. Allis, executor of the estate of Thomas J. Waites, late of Norwich, has brought suit against Ray S. Atwood of New London for $1,000 dated Oct. 31, 1921, given by Mr. Atwood to Mr. Waites, and also for a loan of $45.70 made at an unannounced time in 1921 to be repaid within a reasonable time.

The Credit Discount Trust of New York sued the Allen Spool and Wood Turning Co. of Stonington on three notes which it holds. Oct. 3, 1921, for $900.

Responsibility for the accident has not as yet been fixed. The authorities claim, however, that marks left on the road made by the wheels of Ginsberg's car, show that he skidded 55 feet after the brakes were applied, which they interpret as proving that the car was traveling at a high rate of speed. The police also claim that the boy was thrown ten feet after he was struck and that the wheels passed over his body.

The accident was reported to police headquarters by Ernest S. Bean, 51 Union street, Norwich, who claimed to have seen the mishap. He telephoned to the police station.

Medical Examiner Hayer stated on Thursday that the child had suffered a fractured skull and severe brain injury and that he undoubtedly died instantly.

Coroner J. J. Desmond is making an investigation.

Ridgfield.—The Richard P. Murphy property on the Branchville road has been sold to George Sheffield of New York City. Mr. Murphy and family will spend some time abroad. Mr. Sheffield intends to live here most of the year.
